Real Estate, Loans, Rentals, Pensions

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE.

Do you want a home or lot? If so, why not let me help you? If you are married and sometimes find it hard to pay rent, I will help to so place you that you will have NO MORE RENT TO PAY. If you are single you could with so much more ease ask your sweetheart to share your joys and sorrows IF YOU HAD A HOME OF YOUR OWN. Make your start now on my easy plan, make your home your Savings Bank.

Richard Hill, the wide awake, energetic dealer in Real Estate of our city has closed one of the greatest deals in Nashville Realty, that has fallen to a colored man for years. He purchased for Mr. A. N. Johnson, the undertaker, the "Eakin Mansion" property on Cedar Street, within one block of the State Capitol, and just 50 feet from the Duncan Hotel. This very desirable piece of Realty is easily worth double what Mr. Hill secured it for and he and Mr. Johnson are both to be congratulated on such a piece of good fortune.

The grounds upon which there is yet standing the Massive Mansion House, are 100 feet and more front on Cedar street going back 166 to an alley with 3 sides clear.

The abstract to the title dates back to 1784 and to read it through gives a nice outline of the growth of the city.

Mr. Johnson contemplates extensive improvements not only for the better handling of his large and increasing business, but he is consulting architects and builders, hoping to erect very desirable suites of rooms and offices, also an amusement hall and roof garden for his people.

A more desirable location could not have been found. Mr. Hill feels justly proud to have negotiated such a big deal, but is just as energetic and willing in looking after smaller ones. Should you need a home, or lot, a house erected of any kind, his record would suggest that it would not be a bad policy to consult him.

LADIES' EXTENSION OF ST. JOHN A. M. E. CHURCH.

This auxiliary met at the residence of Mrs. E. C. Coffey, the president, at 707 Sixth avenue, South. The hostess in her charming way made it pleasant for all in her spacious home. The meeting was opened with song. Miss V. L. Moore, of Walden, presiding at the piano. Scripture reading by Rev. B. G. Gordon. Song, after which a fervent prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Moore, of Chicago, who is visiting relatives at Mooretown, East Nashville. The minutes of the previous meeting were read, received and adopted. After the reading of the minutes the following visitors were introduced: Rev. Mr. Porter, Mrs. Jno. Porter, Mrs. Vaughn, Mrs. Phillips, of Spruce Street Baptist Church, and Mrs. Smith, of Lewisburg, who gave brief remarks on the various auxiliaries of the A. M. E. Church, she being president of the W. M. M. S., of Lewisburg. Rev. Mr. Porter's remarks were brief and timely. The Almanac organized since the Ladies' Extension Society by Dr. Haigler, was represented by Mrs. Carrie Scruggs, who also gave brief remarks. A collection of $7.90 was raised.

The society has added a new camp to the list, known as the Parks Camp, named after Rt. Rev. H. B. Parks, late Bishop of the Twelfth Episcopal District. This camp has for its captain Miss M. B. Topp, the energetic worker of St. John. After singing "God be with you," led by Miss Moore, a course of ices was served to all in waiting. Mrs. Moore, the mother of Miss V. L.

Moore, was also present and gave the ladies very encouraging remarks. Last but not least Miss Johnnie Dixon, of St. Paul, who resides with Mrs. Coffey, was introduced by the pastor. The next meeting will be held at the residence of Mrs. Lee Woodard, 435 Eighth avenue, North, Sept. 25, 1908.

THE FAIR ASSOCIATION.

The women of the Fair Association are hard at work and from all indications they will have a fine exhibit. They are anxious that all clubs and ladies should have some of their handicraft on exhibition at the Fair, and cordially invited them to take part in making the occasion a success. On account of Monday being Labor Day, they have postponed the regular meeting until Tuesday, September 8, at four o'clock, at the president's home, 449 Fourth avenue, North. All members urged to be present.

THE REMBRANDT STUDIO

HAS SECURED NEW QUARTERS AT

317 EIGHTH AVENUE, NORTH,

AND AFTER

SEPTEMBER 15,

The doors of the new studio will be open to serve the public. This studio will be second to none in the South, and will be equipped with modern apparatuses and accessories, and we will assure the public that we will be more able to serve them in the future than in the past. Visitors who come to Nashville and fail to visit the Rembrandt Studio will miss one of the wonders of Greater Nashville. As to our workmanship it is unsurpassed. Mr. Lay, proprietor of the Rembrandt Studio, has to his credit many certificates and medals of merit—the last one being the medal and certificates awarded by the Jamestown Exposition Co., at Norfolk, Va. He has also secured the services of Mr. Wm. Hargraves, who, with his broad smiles and winning ways, has won the respect of all as a photographer. He is a reliable and punctual business man, and an esteemed gentleman. He is a first-class view photographer—having graduated from one of the leading schools of photography and worked in the leading studios in St. Louis and Chicago, and also with Messrs. Mahen and Corbett of this city. He will be manager and printer of the Rembrandt Studio. Our motto: We believe permanency is the keystone of photographic success. All photos bearing our trade mark are on this principle. We hold our customers' reputation and success identical with our own. We surround each with every safeguard known to chemical science and our own experience.
